

---

Fantastic Extension! (but i have an error)

Posted by ruven - 2008/02/03 07:31

---

I got an error when i tried transferring my sections/content into the second site.

Fatal error: Call to undefined function: iconv() in public_html/home/administrator/components/com_export_content/convert_img.php on line 2515

Im trying to install my content into a 1.13 Joomla install and have the appropriate version of your component installed.

I have no idea what the error could be... help :)

---

Re:Fantastic Extension! (but i have an error)

Posted by Steve - 2008/02/03 18:09

---

What version of Joomla is the source site?

This error appears to be because your server(host) does not have "iconv library" enabled.

You could contact them and ask them to see what they can do.

Please let me know how you get on. :)

---

Re:Fantastic Extension! (but i have an error)

Posted by ruven - 2008/02/03 23:37

---

Im gonna ask them about that "iconv library" thing you said.

I have no idea what that all means :)

Oh and the content was originally on a Joomla 1.0 install, but then i did a database migration to Joomla 1.5 and am now trying to go back to 1.0, except that i dont know how to migrate a database to an already built site.

If i simply try pointing my site to the database i get errors.

Thats why i tried using your extension.

---

Re:Fantastic Extension! (but i have an error)

Posted by ruven - 2008/02/04 21:48

---

Yeah the hosting company took care of it and the extension worked like a charm.

Great extension, good job.

---

Re:Fantastic Extension! (but i have an error)

Posted by Steve - 2008/02/04 22:56

---

Yeah the hosting company took care of it and the extension worked like a charm.Good to here you got thing working.

Great extension, good job.

Thankyou glad you like it. :)

---